

Add a Lada to your life.

What makes a Lada a joy to own and drive?

Ladas are built with people in mind ... both the driver and his passengers. Whether for daily commuting, a quick trip to the shops or that long holiday journey ... the versatile Lada has the right talents for the job.

There's no shortage of room inside any Lada, whether it's a four door saloon or a five door estate—it'll carry up to five people and plenty of parcels with ease.

Every Lada includes a full range of sophisticated features such as reclining front seats with adjustable head restraints, directional face level ventilation, laminated windscreen, dual circuit front disc brakes, cigar lighter, padded sun visors, and electric wash/wiper control on the steering column. The difference between Ladas and most other cars is that all these special features are included as standard ... not as expensive extras.

Ladas are built to last too, with electrostatic primer dip on all body panels before painting, Tectyl anti-corrosion treatment and with an extra thickness of metal throughout ... for more strength and better safety.

The Lada Range gives you six models to choose from ... letting you suit the needs of your lifestyle, the size of your family and the price you want to pay. And of course the full cost of a Lada is its Drive-Away Price, which includes car tax, VAT, number plates, 12 months Road Fund Licence, front seat belts and delivery ... so you pay just that, and not a penny more.

More and more people are discovering the special qualities and excellent value for money of the Lada. No other car in its class offers anywhere near as much ... a fact that has been acclaimed again and again by the motoring press:

Robert Glenton
(Sunday Express)—
Lada 1500 Saloon

"There are those among us who are inclined to carry on about the expensive equipment of Japanese cars. But not one of these oriental imports can get within a mile of the Lada. Certainly not at the price. This car is exceptional value."

Barry Powell
(News of the World)—
Lada 1200 Saloon

"The Lada 1200 is a car that really shows its muscle ... with their own extreme weather in mind, the Russians have concentrated on durability and reliability. The result is a feeling of sturdy unbreakability from the squat, square body and chunky positive controls."

Peter Harkness
(Sunday Mercury)—
Lada 1200 Estate

"It moves quietly and handles competently and provides acres of space for a small outlay ... the Lada 1200 Estate provides a value for money alternative to the big names in motoring."

What goes into making Lada the best value-for-money car you can buy?

Buying a new car is a difficult and important decision ... especially with so many cars to choose from. To be certain you make the right choice look very carefully at what you get for your money. You'll discover that Lada has more features as standard than any comparably priced car on the road today.

Here's a car that's the ideal choice for the family... or anyone whose first motoring requirements are room, reliability and comfort.

It's packed with all the standard Lada features—reclining front seats with adjustable head restraints, anti-dazzle rear view mirror, opening front quarter lights, cigar lighter, directional face-level ventilation, and electric wash/wiper control on the steering column, that make motoring in a Lada so enjoyable.

The 1198cc five main bearing, overhead camshaft engine develops 62 DIN bhp at 5600rpm and gives steady but flexible power for town or country driving.

Lada 1200 & 1500 Estate

When you need extra space ... and lots of it ... but you don't want to pay an inflated price, then the versatile Lada Estate should be at the top of your shopping list.

Even with the rear seat up, accommodating up to five in comfort, you've still got 22 cu.ft. of loadspace.

With the rear seat folded down the loadspace is 42 cu.ft. ... enough to take masses of luggage, packages or goods. The whole tailgate swings up effortlessly and the low loading line and flat floor makes putting in and taking out easy.

The Lada Estates give you all the strength and safety features, refinements and driving ease of the saloons, making them just as at home taking the family for a picnic, delivering produce or carrying tools and equipment.

For extra power the larger engined 1500 Estate is still within the reach of a modest budget. Its greater pulling ability as well as servo assisted brakes make it an ideal choice for commercial applications or whenever a towing vehicle is required.

Lada 1300 ES Saloon

And of course there's a long list of other great Lada features that are included in the price ... from Tectyl and underbody anti-corrosion treatment, to dual circuit front disc brakes, to the 12 month unlimited mileage warranty.

The strong, 1298cc engine responds easily to the rigours of city traffic ... and cruises effortlessly on the motorway.

But you'll need to sit behind the wheel to really start to appreciate the quality that's waiting for you. Look over the comprehensive instrumentation including rev counter and tripometer, gauges for oil, pressure and temperature and warning lights for fuel, choke, hand-brake, hydraulic fluid level, an electric clock and courtesy lights that operate when any of the four doors are opened.

The servo assisted, dual circuit front disc brakes, reinforced roof, underchassis, suspension and exhaust system... the inertia reel seat belts, radial ply tyres, powerful twin headlights make the 1500 Saloon an extremely safe car.

Behind Every Lada

Ladas are made at the Togliatti manufacturing complex in the Soviet Union, an ultra modern, 50 million sq. ft. factory, specially designed with the co-operation of Fiat.

Last year over 660,000 Ladas were built on the 90 miles of fully automated assembly lines.

Togliatti is one of the most quality conscious car plants in the world, and at each stage of manufacture, and before leaving the factory, each Lada undergoes a series of stringent tests including road tests on all types of surface and in dust and rain chambers.

All cars are supplied to the U.K. by Avtoexport who export to more than 70 countries throughout the world.

The U.K. Import Centre for Ladas is at Bridlington, North Yorkshire and here all cars are put through a rigorous 39 point check including paint and bodywork before delivery to the U.K. network of dealers.

Also at Bridlington, The National Parts Centre is an atmospherically controlled, 90,000 sq.ft. warehouse complex where over 8,000 line item spares are stocked to ensure the minimum of service or repair delays for Lada owners.

There are now over 160 Lada dealers throughout the U.K. where each Lada is given a final pre-delivery inspection and road test before delivery to the customer. Each dealer is fully trained and has the equipment and skills to keep your Lada in top condition.
